LOCAL NEWS.

AMUSEMENTS TO NIGHT FORD'S THEATER.-Maggie Mitchell's farewell benefit is announced for this evening. She appears to-night again as the heroine in the wonderfully successful play of "Fanchon." The entertainment will conclude with the Rendezvous," wherein Miss Maggie's sisters Emma and Mary will appear. The public will have much curiosity to see if the younger sisters are endowed with the same talent as the charming Maggie.

GEOVER'S THEATER .- Manager Grover's brilliant place of amusement continues to do a wonderful business with the always-popular Florences. To-night they take a benefit. Let them have a good one, as their engagement ceases to-morrow evening. The bill is "The Returned Volunteer," "A Lesson for Hus-bands" and "The Mischievous Irishman."

WASHINGTON THEATER - Benefit of Mr. Chanfrau .- The versatile star at the Washington (Mr. Chanfrau) is fast becoming a favorite with our theater goers. He takes a benefit tonight, and will appear for the fifth time as "Jupiter," in "Bull Run," and as "Jerry Clip," in the "Stage-struck Barber." Chanfran's imitations of celebrated actors are certainly won-

OLYMPIC.—Those who have not yet visited Butler's Olympic Music Hall have certainly missed no little fun. The crowds that resort there nightly speak in the highest terms of the excellence of the performances.

CREMORNE CIRCUS.-Crowds day and night at Nixon's, and no wonder. The performers are generally of a first-class order, and the pavilion very convenient of access. A great enture at Nixon's is the Spanish ballet troupe. CANTERBURY HALL .- Miss Agnes Sutherand, who has an excellent voice, sings with exquisite sweetness; while the dancing of Julia Mortimer and Kate Pennoyer is superb, and their smiles add a peculiar charm and grace to Il their performances. "The Gipsey's Lay" to-night again.

BADNUM's CIRCUS.-As usual, leng before the hour of commencement Barnum's big tent was crowded last night. The performances here are both amusing and instructive. The jokes of Dan Gardner and Jim Reynolds are not only new, but delivered in superior style. The Ravel troupe appear here to-night again. ACADEMY OF MUSIC .- Free concerts of vocal and instrumental music this evening. LIBERTY HALL, ALEXANDRIA.-Excellent performances hightly, of singing, dancing and Ethiopian characteristic plays.

CAMP BARKER.-The contraband camp, or, as it should be more properly called, the contraband asylum and hospital, is at Camp Barker, near the corner of Twelfth and Q sts., on the same ground formerly occupied by Coltman's brick kilns and St. John's burial ground, and at present contains 675 persons, among whom are about 100 in the hospital; the balance being women and children, with a few old and decrepid men and women-two of whom are deaf and dumb, and one blind.

The buildings are mostly the same as were used by the McClellan Dragoons as barracks, but several additions have been made since the occupancy by the contrabands. The office and dwelling of the superintendent, Dr. D. B. Nichols, is in the center, on the east side, with the laboratory under the charge of the surgeon, Dr. Amos Pettijohn; the store rooms and guard room are on either side. The barracks on the south side have been mostly fitted up by the families living in them; many of them having purchased stoves to cook by and make themselves comfortable during the coming winter. These are occupied mostly by the old and infirm, and mothers with large families of children. Some of these are said to be quite industrious, and the most of their time is passed in sewing for new-comers and making garments for the men.

The row of barracks on the north side of the square, which are smaller than the others, is used as quarters for small families. The west side is vacant, but will be closed up immediately by another row of quarters. On the extreme right of the north row of buildings is the orphan asylum, which has been lately fitted up under the direction of Misses Patton and Doxsey. This is certainly the heatest part of the camp. At present there are a dozen infants here, who are under the care of a matron.

In the space in the center are several tents, three being used as hospital wards; two for the men, and one for the women, which are furnished with iron cots and other conveniences; but it is contemplated to remove these as soon as the chapel, which is in the center of the south row of quarters, can be fitted up for a hospital. The sick are as well attended to as can be; a sufficient number of those able to nurse them being detailed for that purpose. It would seem from the number of sick that the camp is very unhealthy, yet such is not the case, for a large proportion of the sick are sent from different divisions of the army, with which many contrabands are employed as teamsters. On Monday, when the reserve corps of colored teamsters belonging to the Army of the Potomac left their camp, near Camp Barker, twenty-five were sent to this place for medical

In the chapel a school is taught by Messrs. Hill and Burgster, two young men employed by the American Tract Society, during the day and evening-the day school being held from 10 to 12 and from 2 to 4, which is attended by about 75 children, and the night school, from 7 to 9, by about 100 adults, of both sexes. They do not seem, however, to learn fast, and are backward in their studies, which are of course in the primary branches. It is said that these contrabands are not as apt at their studies as those in South Carolina. Preaching services are held here every Sabbath; one of the teachers generally conduct the exercises in the morning; Dr. Nichols, the superintendent, in the afternoon; and at night they conduct the meeting among themselves.

The able-bodied contrabands are now all made use of by the Government, or they hire themselves out in the families in the city and neighborhood. A large number of the men are now in Government service as teamsters, or helping about the hospitals, while several hundred of the women are engaged as servants in the city. Those who are employed in the Government service draw rations and clothing when they are employed, while those at the camp sick and unable to work are furnished with rations only; having to rely altogether on charity for clothing. Almost weekly large boxes of east off clothing, material, &c., are sent here from the North, while the National Freedman's Relief Association of this city take the especial charge of distributing the goods and having the clothing made up. They employ two ladies, Miss Patten and Miss Doxsey, who are daily in the quarters instructing the women in needle-work. When Dr. Nichols took charge of the contrabands there were 400, and since that time (16th of June last) 3,500 have been registered. Since that time 189 have died. For some time past but few have arrived here, the latest arrival of any note being some thirty or forty about the time the rebels crossed into Maryland; and at present there are no good servants disengaged. The demand for them is not confined alone to our citizens, but often inducements are held out to them to go North; but it is rarely that any offer. even the most liberal, to go beyond Maryland is accepted. The offers for them outside of the District come most largely from Wisconsin, Iowa and Pennsylvania.

The camp is now in as good order, under the circumstances, as can be expected, and the various officers. Dr. Nichols, superintendent; W. W. Smale, assistant; Dr. Pettijohn, surgeon, and Messis, Hill and Burgster, teachers-deserve much credit for successful management of this

GEORGETOWN AFFAIRS .- Very little produce has been arriving on the canal during the past week, but one boat coming through from Harper's Ferry, and that being loaded with coal. A few boats in theearly part of the week got down from Seneca, but a break occurring a lev miles this side of that point has interrupted the trade and nothing is now arriving. The break, which it is thought was occasioned by some miscreant cutting the banks, will soon be repaired-a large force of men having gone up for that purpose-and a large number of boats which are on the way may be expected down

There is very little grain in the market, barely enough to keep the mills in operation. We quote as follows:-Flour, super none in mar-ket, nominal at $6.75; extra, $7.50 to $8; family, $5.50 to $10; meal, 80 to 90; corn, 80 to 85; oats,

SENT TO THE OLD CAPITOL .- Mr. Chas. Sherman, son of C. F. Sherman, of this city, arrived here from Dixie a few days ago, where he has been serving in the southern army, holding a a commission as captain. When he arrived home his wife was in Georgetown, and was at once sent for; and her joy at seeing him made her torgetful of the fact that it was necessary tor him to be secreted, and she run about clapping her hands and saying "Charle; has come! Charley has come!" which announcement caused Captain Charley's whereabouts to be known; and he was consequently arrested and jurnished quarters in the Old Capitol.

A Snooring APPAIR occurred in the cars a which Brice B. Brewer was shot in the fore. head, the ball passing in at the right side, running next the skull for three inches, and then coming ont. An officer of the 3d Maryland Regiment was arrested upon the charge of shocting, but upon investigation he was dis-

MARRIED. - There was an exceedingly pleasant gathering last night at 325 G street, the residence of Lewis Clephane, Esq., City Postmas. ter,) the occasion being the return of Mr. Clephane to this city with his sweet Northern bride, late Miss Annie M. Collins, of West Haven, Connecticut.

How Mr. Clephane has managed to make love during this busy war year, (especially busy to him with his double duties as an active corporation officer and as at the head of perhaps the most overworked department under povernment-the Washington Post Office with its enormous army work) is a mystery to his friends; but that he has done it and exceedingly well is indisputable.

The reception last night from 8 to 11 was a very brilliant one, and the time was pleasantly occupied with paying the usual congratulations of warm friendship, and in partaking the elegant hospitalities of the house. The lady visitors, especially, found much to admire in the exceedingly beautiful bridal presents of rich and tasteful jewelry to be seen in one of the

THE POLICE MAGISTRATES .- The Mayor has sent to the Board of Aldermen his nominations for Police Magistrates for the ensuing term. The only change which has been made is in the 5th precinct, where John P. Hilton is nominated in place of John D. Clark. The nominations have not bet been confirmed, and the police business of the 5th precinct devolves upon Justice Thompson, who has been attending to it steadily and promptly, and the business of the police station has not suffered from neglect.

MASONIC .- At the meeting of Washington Royal Arch Chapter, No. 16, held last evening at Masonic Hall, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year, viz: William G. Parkhurst. M. E. High Priest: Andrew Glass, E. King; Wallace Raybold, E. Scribe; T. S. Denham, Treasurer; G. R. Thompson, Secre-
